Quem Somos

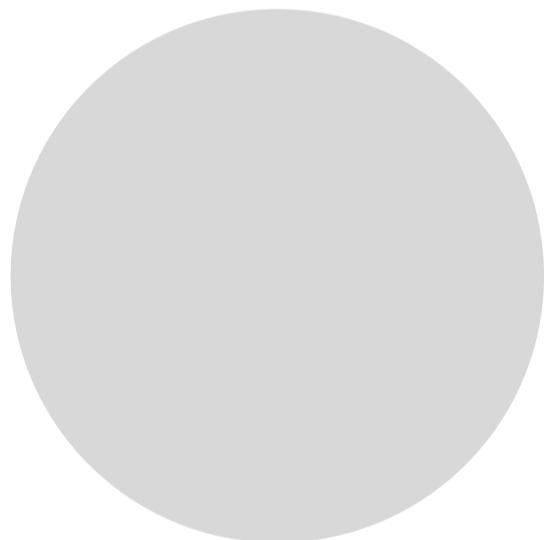

My name is Joaquim "Júnior" Oliveira, a 25 years old product designer from Porto, Portugal.

With no connections or influences to the world of design, I questioned the formal and functional diversity of the various existing products.

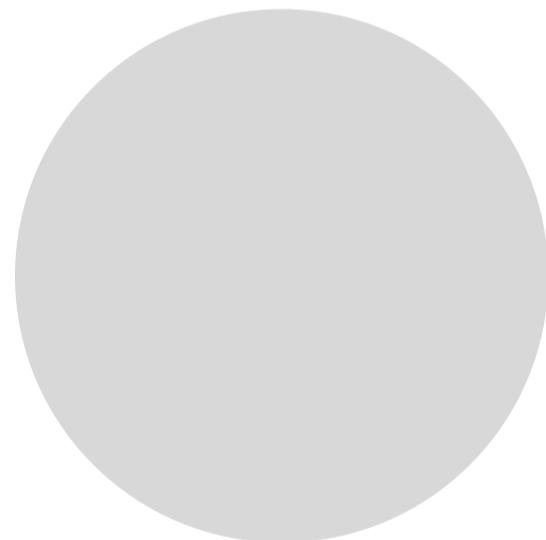

Fascinated by what it is hidden inside, disassembled all types of equipment and tried to combine them.

In a tireless search for finding the link between the product and its function based on its formal language, I believe in the globalization of design as an area of study that combines several disciplines to achieve the perfect harmony between product and user.
